A husband's tribute

Family devastated after murdered mum Saima Khan is found outside home

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsnmedia.com

A FAMILY have said their hearts have been 'torn apart' after the brutal murder of a mother-of-four shocked the town this week.

Thirty-four-year-old Saima Khan was found in a pool of blood by family members outside her home in Overstone Road late on Monday evening. Police have since launched a murder investigation.

Saima's distraught husband, Hafeez Rehman, has now paid a touching tribute to his wife.

He said: "As everyone can appreciate and understand, the circumstances have torn our hearts apart. "My children have been deprived of their mother. This was a junction in our lives where we intended to watch our children grow, to love them and spend quality time as a family and make memories.

"We have been left with a gap in our lives and we can only pray that she is resting in peace."

Hospital A&E tops rankings

SERVICES at a hospital have soared past national targets and been named the best of their kind.

Emergency and urgent care services at Luton and Dunstable (L&D) are officially the top performing in the country.

During 2015/16, more than 98 per cent of patients attending the Emergency Department (ED) completed their care within four hours, against a national target of 95 per cent.

This has been achieved at a time when the hospital has experienced its highest number of patients ever, with the ED now seeing more than 300 people a day.

David Kirby, operational medical director, said: "This official recognition of the hospital's performance shows the dedication of every single member of staff - from those who receive the critically unwell in ED, right through to those who discharge patients from the wards back into the community. We are proud of the contribution made by every one of our 4,000 staff and thank them for this fantastic achievement."

L&D Hospital is currently in the middle of a £150 million revitalisation which will see it become an emergency hub for the region.

Coming together in shadow of sadness

IT is difficult not to reflect on the tragic news that a mother lost her life this week.

We have heard from family, friends and neighbours of Saima, who have all expressed their shock and sadness at reports of her death.

It is too early to speculate on exactly what happened to this woman; police officials and neighbours have joined together in calling for an end to the speculation which has been rife since the incident on Monday.

But it is not too early to express our sincere sadness both for the family she has left behind, but also our community. Saima's husband has called for 'unity' in the face of this atrocity and the best - in fact, all - we can do at such a time is support each other. Our homes and, by extension, our town should be somewhere we feel safe.

The despicable actions of a few must not be allowed to take this away from us. Let us hope justice, swift and severe, is served to those who deserve to be punished.

Cuts hit disabled shoppers

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A CHARITY helping disabled and elderly shoppers get about has been forced to close its shopping centre base following funding cuts.

Shopmobility had been facing an uncertain future after £71,000 of funding was cut by the London Luton Airport Limited community fund.

As a result, the shop in the old Arndale Centre has had to close, with three out of six members of staff being made redundant as a result.

Roy Greening, manager of The Mall and chairman of Luton Shopmobility, said: "We found out for certain that the £71k would be withdrawn on April 1, which meant we had to have a review of all costs.

"The three main services we provided are transport to The Mall, the hiring of scooters and our shop in The Mall.

"Unfortunately, the shop has had to close."

The Mall has now set aside a space near the car park for a smaller base for the service.

As a result of having to make up for the funding shortfall, Shopmobility has also had to start charging for the use of services for the first time in its 25-year history.

However, Mr Greening feels that enough action has been taken to reduce any noticeable impact to the services, which currently boasts over 2,800 users.

More than 50 service users took to the streets to protest outside Luton Town Hall in February (pictured), urging the council to reconsider the allocation of the funding.

Mr Greening added: "We're going to operate as we did before with the exception of Saturday, where will run a pre-booked service."

"We're confident that aside from this, there will not be a noticeable difference in the service provided."

"However, our visibility will be impacted as we've had to shut the shop."

"While we've had a scare about our future, I think we've done enough to save some of the services, despite the pressure the financial cut put us under."

Cannabis campaigners say we must aim high

HATTERS fans were given the opportunity to have their say on plans for the club's new stadium plans. Busy consultation events were held at Kenilworth Road, Venue Central and

The Hat Factory this week, with fans giving their views on the plans for Power Court - as well as the mixed use development at Newlands Park. Planning applications for both are due to be submitted in June. Gary Sweet, chief executive of Luton Town, said: "This is an opportunity to do something special." Read more: luton-dunstable.co.uk

editor@lsnmedia.com

A PETITION calling on the government to turn Luton into 'the cannabis capital of the world' has been launched.

Cannabis is currently a class B drug, and possession of it can lead to a criminal conviction, a fine and up to five years in jail.

There is a long-standing debate as to whether it should be legalised, as in Amsterdam, where 'coffee shops' legally sell cannabis to the public, who can smoke it on the premises.

Creator of the online petition, Ramsey Ismail, sees such an operation working in Luton after setting up a petition on the government's official website.

Ramsey writes: 'It's ridiculous to find that possession of a plant can land you jail time or at least a trip to the police station. My proposition is that we turn Luton into a city similar to Amsterdam while keeping the drug illegal for sale in the rest of the country.'

Ramsey goes on to say that cannabis would be confined to coffee shops so people 'will still be able to stay away from the drug'.

The blurb adds: 'This will be a haven for pot smokers knowing our government is keeping up with the times and won't have to travel to another country to better their economy with our hard earned cash.'

'A big tourist market for a city with an airport.'

More than 220 people have so far signed their name to the petition.

In the unlikely event it receives 10,000 signatures, the government would formally respond. If it reached a 100,000 signatures, the petition would be considered for debate in parliament.

The campaign's aims may not be taken entirely seriously, but it has thrust the debate about whether to legalise cannabis back into the public domain.

Kelvin Hopkins, MP for Luton North, believes there is a debate to be had - as long as it is taken in a medicinal context.

He said: 'I support the use of cannabis for medicinal purposes and the government should legislate for this.'

'The evidence that cannabis helps control pain for a wide variety of illnesses is becoming clearer.'

How to find long-term relief from muscle pain

Almost 31 million days of work were lost in the UK in 2013 due to back, neck and muscle problems, according to the Office for National Statistics (ONS).

Muscle pain and other musculoskeletal conditions account for more prolonged absences than any other ailment.

While most of these conditions can be treated relatively easily with over-the-counter painkillers, sometimes they can develop into chronic conditions that mean sufferers face taking prescription medicine for extended periods. Left untreated, intense and persistent pain can rapidly drain the joy out of life.

Getting an accurate diagnosis (instead of just temporary relief from medication) is essential for developing a long-term solution for the problem, but it is extremely difficult to get an accurate diagnosis.

With innumerable responsibilities requiring more urgent attention than just "muscle pain" the NHS just isn't set up to find out what is really wrong. The typical tests, if you're given any at all, just don't pick up the problem that's causing the muscle pain. And in those cases all you're left with is weak advice like "you're just not stretching enough" or "maybe we can try some stronger medication".

You might get lots of other advice as well, all of which is just as deeply flawed, and you're likely to get something different from every healthcare provider that you speak to. They all have their own opinions.

But opinions won't help you stop the muscle pain. Only a proper diagnosis can lead to the solution to fix this problem...

So what's the answer?

Recent advances in the diagnosis of muscle pain have led to the development and huge success of a treatment for muscle pain that works directly on the cause of the problem.

The excellent results of this treatment have been published in major medical journals, with satisfaction rates as high as 90%.

In Bedfordshire, you can get this treatment at the Atlas Wellness Centre – the office of muscle pain relief expert Peter Olsson.

Peter and his team of fully trained pain care specialists have helped thousands of patients find relief from their muscle pain.

According to Peter "It is surprising that more of the recommended muscle pain treatments don't address the underlying causes of the pain.

It always amazes my clients how many muscle pain conditions are connected to poor nerve function. Using a combination of ultra-advanced technology not found elsewhere in Bedfordshire, we precisely diagnose the problem and develop a unique programme to that brings superior long-term results for most people."

The majority of their clients have enjoyed lasting relief from muscle pain.

Now it's your turn for a comprehensive consultation and examination of your muscle health... at a heavily discounted rate.

Luton on Sunday has teamed up with the pain therapy specialists at Atlas Wellness Centre to help readers improve their spinal health and relieve their muscle pain.

This is your opportunity to treat the cause of your problem, not just the symptoms - and in the process get your life back.

Simply call 01234 340317 to receive a thorough diagnostic examination with the most advanced technology in the world and a comprehensive easy-to-understand report on your state of health.

Mention this article (CODE: LOS49MPMS2h) and Peter will happily reduce his usual consultation fee of £245 to just £49. That's a saving of £196!

This is a limited offer. Only 100 reader consultations are available at this exclusively discounted rate – so you'll need to hurry.

Don't suffer muscle pain in silence any longer... find out how the latest diagnostic technology can help you pinpoint the causes of your problem. Book a consultation with Peter and his team now by calling 01234 340317. They are waiting to take your call Monday to Friday – but you can call on the weekend, leave a message to reserve your spot, and they will return your call.

Remember - this is a SAFE, non-invasive, drug-free, 100% natural treatment for muscle pain.

To take advantage of this special opportunity, call now on 01234 340317 and quote this discount code: LOS49MPMS2h

Then tear out this article and take it to your appointment to claim your special consultation rate and comprehensive examination. Don't put off your diagnosis and treatment a moment longer!

Flipping good fun as burger bar opens in town

FIVE Guys will open its doors in Luton today – and they are hoping to cash in on carnival visitors.

The branch was due to open on Monday but changed schedule so it could welcome people passing by for the carnival to its new venue on St George's Square.

About 40 workers – most of them new to the company – will be aiming to flip 1,500 burgers on opening day, and by the end of Monday they will have gone through nearly a tonne of potatoes.

The restaurant's manager Pali Hangyal told Luton on Sunday: "Everything is hand-made by us, which I think is what the customers find so special.

"I believe we're in the perfect location in the town centre for people to walk by and come in." More pics at luton-dunstable.co.uk

Lift off for new hospital helipad

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A HOSPITAL revamp has taken another step forward after planning permission for a helipad was granted.

The new facility is being built as part of a £150m make-over of Luton and Dunstable Hospital.

The motion was passed at a development committee meeting of Luton Borough Council on Tuesday evening.

Approval came despite concerns over noise affecting residents on Lewsey Road and Dunstable Road, who live opposite where the new helipad will be, on top of a new Accident and Emergency facility.

The decision drew mixed responses from residents of Lewsey Road.

Sylvia Odell said: "I do have concerns over the noise but it's got planning permission so there's nothing we can do about it now.

"There's no doubt that the hospital revamp is a good thing but I'd be lying if I said I had no issue with the noise levels."

Mohammed Yasin, a former councillor who worked at Luton and Dunstable Hospital said: "They could build it on my driveway if they wanted to.

"I worked at the hospital for years and saw that saving lives is more important than noise inconvenience."

At the meeting, David Kirby, operational medical director at the hospital said: "This will allow us to carry on providing our current level of care, without it we would see a dilution of services on offer."

Liberal Democrat councillor David Franks called for an introduction of a reporting system for any noise complaints residents may have, which was agreed at the meeting unanimously.

Shane Putney with Mrs Perry

When Mr & Mrs Perry of The Close, Luton decided to replace their draughty old Porch sliding doors, they chose Kingsbourne Windows again.

Mr Perry says "We had all our windows and back door installed 22 years ago by them. They done a fantastic job back then, and now all these years later their fitters have completed another superb installation. For a professional service at a reasonable cost, we would certainly recommend Kingsbourne Windows to all our family and friends".

Men in court relating to Natalia's death

DISCOVERY: Natalia Doherty's remains were found last year

TWO men facing charges connected with the death of Natalia Doherty in 2003 appeared in court on Thursday.

Joseph Doherty, 72, of Old Greenock Road, Port Glasgow, Scotland, and Daniel Doherty, 67, of Icknield Way, Luton, appeared at Luton Magistrates' Court on charges of preventing a lawful burial, obstructing a coroner in the execution of his duty and perverting the course of justice.

The remains of 50-year-old Natalia, who also went by the surname Wilkanowska, were discovered in a garden in Luton in December. The last confirmed sighting of her had been in April 2003.

The men have been bailed with conditions ahead of the next appearance at Luton Crown Court on June 27.

Husband of murder victim calls for unity

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsmmedia.com

THE husband of Saima Khan has called for a shaken community to unite following her tragic murder on Monday evening.

Saima's husband, Hafeez Rehman, has also appealed for anyone with information to come forward and help police in their investigations. Saima suffered 'serious' injuries in the attack. She is believed to have been stabbed. Police found Saima dead at the scene when they were called at 11.30pm.

Hafeez said: "We understand that this incident has shaken the whole community and we ask that they are united in this time of need."

"We would like those responsible to be caught and brought to justice. We plead that anyone with any information come forward."

Detective Chief Inspector

Adam Gallop added: "This is a tragic incident. We are keeping an open mind as to what led to Saima's death."

Mr Rehman added: "We will notify of the Janaza (funeral) prayers as and when we can."

In the meantime we request that my family and children are in your thoughts and prayers."

Anyone with information is asked to contact police on 101 quoting Op Humboldt.

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

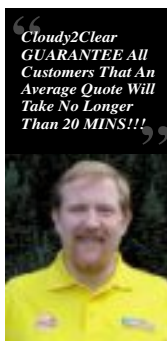

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. 'Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable & Stevenage areas and manager

Tom Bliss agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

INVESTIGATION: Rabia Girls' and Boys' School

Further scrutiny at Muslim faith school

A SCHOOL that was criticised by a schools watchdog for segregating male and female staff will now be investigated by the Charity Commission.

An inquiry is set to examine the administration, governance and management of the Rabia Education

Trust – which runs Rabia Girls' and Boys' School – as well as the financial controls and management of the independent Muslim faith school.

It comes after the school failed to comply with an OFSTED action plan within its deadline.

Sickening dog fight trade is uncovered

BY SAM WEBSTER
editor@lsmmedia.com

DOGS are being hung by their teeth from trees in Luton to improve strength for fights, according to undercover investigators.

The League Against Cruel Sports want tougher sanctions for dog fighting after their undercover report into a resurgence of dogfighting, Project Bloodline, was carried out in the Luton area.

Dogs were offered for sale in the town from £800 to £1,000 each, with the report saying there appeared to be 'an almost limitless supply' - as transactions occurred in alleyways with sellers covering their face.

One family involved in dog fighting in the town were reported to have trained their dogs by 'body slamming' them - sitting on them for up to two hours and punching the dog violently each time it moves. Bodies of dead dogs were also being dumped in nearby farmland.

The League is calling for a register of banned owners and a review of England and Wales's Dangerous Dogs Act.

Chief executive of the campaign group, Eduardo Gonçalves, said: "If anyone thinks dog fighting is a thing of the past, then sadly they are wrong."

"It's happening right under our noses."

YOU might fancy a quick visit to the town centre, but parking on the pavement is taking it a bit far. IT'S all go at Luton's manufacturing plant in Skimpot Road, with a new van rolling off the production line every 129 seconds.

But when it comes to taking a well-deserved break, door line worker Amanda Kenny likes to kick back with a copy of Luton on Sunday. Who can blame her?

You can read more about our trip behind the scenes at Vauxhall on pages 28&29.

BLOGGER OF THE WEEK: James Henry

A creative side of Luton

JAMES is a member of Luton Poetry Society. Naturally he has a way with words, so he gives us more detail about the society and what they are up to. If it interests you then full details can be found on the group's website: lutonpoetrysociety.com

LUTON Poetry Society continues to raise its profile in the creative side of life.

Its monthly meetings are open to everyone, irrespective of age, gender and cultural background.

The membership consists of a core of poets who regularly attend, and others, equally welcome poets who occasionally come along.

Meetings have an audience of around 30, many of whom perform poems, from their own writings and those of well-established and famous poets.

A good percentage of members are published poets, with others creating original work for the entertainment of themselves, family and friends.

The Society was founded in June 2011 by Mary Emeji, a local commercial lawyer, whose love of poetry has inspired many to create their own verses in addition to exploring a variety of poets from ancient times to the modern day.

Monthly meetings follow a theme known in advance; the range of subjects covered in the first four years is vast.

Obvious seasonal poems, Valentine's Day and Christmas are perennial features, alongside the annual celebration of William Shakespeare's birthday.

Unusual themes include 'My Diet', 'Sorry, Please, and Thank You', and other themes have touched on 'Light', 'Sport', 'Choices', and 'My Inspiration'.

Themes encourage members to produce new poems, and the Society offers information about book publishing.

The afternoon's activities have not been confined to poetry. Several musicians have given mini concerts to complement the poetry.

The range of instruments played has included classical guitar, piano keyboard, violin, viola, and a curiously large string instrument played by two visiting Swiss citizens.

Regular special guests to the Society have included the MP for Luton North, the Mayors of Luton, and the Lord-Lieutenant for Bedfordshire.

A local poet who wrote whilst in the long-standing Scandinavia Cafe in High Town, John Hegley, entertained members one Saturday.

The LPS has informal links with Luton Irish Forum, the John Clare Society, University of Bedfordshire Poetry Performance Society, and Luton Music Club.

Members often attend and perform by invitation.

The Society has reached out into the local community by holding readings in: the University of Bedfordshire Mezzanine Bar; whilst having breakfast at the Toby Carvery, lunch at the Hatters' pub, dinner at The Crown, Nakorn Thai and Sizzall, and coffee in the Stockwood Discovery Park.

These gatherings are usually poetry-themed and a forum for networking.

The Society meets monthly on the last Saturday of each month in the Central Library, from 2pm to 4pm.

SAFETY FEARS: The scene at Overstone Road after the fatal stabbing this week

Safe on our streets?

I WOULD usually be the first to jump to the defence of Luton as its reputation gets dragged through the mud in the national press.

Let me also say that I am sure ours is not the only town suffering serious attacks and crime on a regular basis. But, god in heaven, what is going on?

An acid attack last week, a stabbing this week, not to mention a teacher banned for being a pervert.

I think the people of Luton need some reassurance that crime really is under control here and that there is no need to fear walking the streets of our once fairly peaceful town.

One can only take so much.
Name and address supplied

History repeats

WHEN will the headless chickens at LU1 stop repeating their same daft mistakes?

They seem to have a fixation about cutting down on waste collection. It seems they genuinely believe that through some magic formula involving a combination of monitoring the contents of our bins, checking the addresses of who uses the tidy tip and generally reducing the service that they will somehow save money.

But who's going to do the monitoring - the Boy Scouts? Who's going to police the tidy tip to make sure it's not being used by crafty non-Lutonians - the Serious Crime Squad? And what happens to the rubbish that's turned away? Does it magically evaporate?

Haven't they learnt the lessons from their previous attempts at reducing the service: that further cuts will result in yet more fly-tipping? And clearing it up will cost more money, not less. Whatever does it cost to send out teams each morning to remove the latest 'anonymous donations' to our streets? A settee here, an old freezer there; and we already see too many bin bags that have received the attention of cats or foxes.

If the service is reduced again things will go downhill even faster and Hazel Simmons will once more feel she has to jump to the defence of the town by denying it's the scruffiest town in England.

False economy

I BOUGHT some nail clippers the other day. I cut the nails on my left hand, then I cut the thumb nail on my right hand, and the arm snapped.

The first time I used them.

Stamped on the clippers it said 'Made in China'.

I hope they don't use Chinese steel to make bridges. Cheap can mean false economy.

CRIME SCENE: Police cordoned off part of Legrave Road

Witness appeal for acid attack

A POLICE appeal has been launched after a man suffered serious burns to his face after being targeted in an apparent acid attack.

The victim, Atif Khan, last week told Luton on Sunday he was 'recovering' following the incident on Legrave Road between 10:30 and 11:00am last Thursday, May 19.

Police called the attack 'abhorrent' and have asked any witnesses to call PC Catherine Layton on 101.

Two years in prison for child abuse pics

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsnmedia.com

A MAN who held a catalogue of sickening child abuse images on his computer has been jailed.

Kevan Walker, 50, formerly of Malthouse Green, Luton, had been charged with six offences relating to indecent photographs of children after Bedfordshire Police received intelligence regarding his online activity.

As a result of this information the force searched Walker's address and seized items which could be examined for the presence of child abuse material.

Walker had maintained a denial of any ownership of such material but later pleaded guilty to all six counts and was sentenced to two years in prison last Friday (20 May).

He will also be added to the sex offenders register for life. Detective Constable Paul Fitzharris, from the Internet Child Abuse Investigation Team (ICAIT), part of the Force Cyber Hub, said: "In all the time I have worked I've never witnessed such horrendous material to the level that Walker was viewing."

"The measures placed will ensure that he remains under supervision for the rest of his life and will be prevented from contributing any further to the sick cycle of child abuse."

Parents 'too upset' to talk about Tomas

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsnmedia.com

THE brother of a man killed by a single punch has told how his family found it difficult to move on until his body was flown back home.

Tomas Juska, 24, who originally hailed from Lithuania, died a day after falling to the ground following a fracas outside Dunstable nightclub Club Cookies on August 23, 2015.

As reported in LoS last week, the man who punched him, 21-year-old Cortney Batchelor, was jailed for four years for his manslaughter.

In what has been a stressful period of time for the family, Tomas' brother Vaidas has described the impact the events have had on the family.

Vaidas said: "This whole awful period of my life has made me realise just how important my family are to me and also my friends. I want to spend as much time as possible with the people who are important to me."

"My parents came over to England to see Tomas in the mortuary at Bedford Hospital in the days after he had died."

"They only came to England for about 24 hours as they felt they needed to see him one last time. It cost them a lot of money to come over and see him but they didn't feel like they had a choice. I was with them when they saw him and both my parents were so upset in a way I have never seen them before. My mother almost fainted whilst we were there."

"Despite it being such an upsetting experience for my parents I felt glad that they were able to see Tomas and say goodbye to him."

TRAGIC: Tomas Juska died after one punch from Cortney Batchelor sent him falling to the floor

"What was really hard or them also was being told that Tomas couldn't come home to Lithuania straight away due to the procedures involved."

"My parents and I understood things needed to be done but we all felt that we just wanted him home. I don't think my parents could truly move on whilst they were waiting for Tomas to come home to them."

Vaidas paid tribute to his brother in a victim statement read out at Luton Crown Court after Batchelor was sentenced last week.

AS the countdown to the EU referendum begins, we kick off the first of a four-part series looking how the UK's decision may impact our county. First up, NICK SMITH hears from David Cameron at easyJet HQ.

FAMILY holidays will be more expensive if we leave the European Union.

This is the latest of David Cameron's warnings to the public – who will decide the UK's fate in the union next month – as he spoke at low-cost airline easyJet's Bedfordshire HQ this week.

The prime minister said the impact of leaving would also ripple out to businesses. "Britain could choose to leave the EU but have access to the single market," he said, "but we'd have to pay the same as we do at the moment, have freedom of movement but have no say over the rules."

"Crucially, we're sat around the table making the rules, where as if we were to leave we'd lose that."

Mr Cameron was introduced to staff at the Luton Airport base on Tuesday by Carolyn McCall, chief executive of easyJet, who has already endorsed the remain campaign. "For easyJet, being a member has been a good thing," she said. "The EU's common aviation area allows us to fly in Europe without restriction. It has allowed us and other short haul airlines to grow."

Those campaigning to leave the union have already accused the PM of 'more scaremongering'.

But Downing Street insist this week's warning adds to previous ones by airline chief executives, including Mrs McCall and Michael O'Leary of Ryanair.

Mr Cameron also spoke of his admiration of the Luton airline and its founder, Stelios Haji-Ioannou, calling the airline a 'British success story' and how Mr Haji-Ioannou was the only man he has crossed the street to congratulate.

The prime minister added: "On June 23 we have a big decision to make. General elections are important, but this is even more important.

"We are an amazing country, we have the fifth largest economy in the world and we have done great things. If we want a great, strong Britain we want to be a part of a reformed EU."

He told staff from the low-cost airline that 'leaving the EU would add extra costs'. "If we were to leave, there

FIGHT OR FLIGHT:
David Cameron came to Bedfordshire to deliver his latest warning over Brexit

YOUR COMMENTS ON SOCIAL MEDIA...

Scaremongering or the truth? Should we be scared of leaving the EU?

"I'll agree with Cameron for once. This is more important than any general election. Vote out and claim our country back."

Richard Warner

"Priced out [of holidays] anyway as it's extortion to take family holidays in half term."

David Wood

"Cameron just said holidays abroad will go up. OAPs can't afford to go on holiday full stop."

Maureen Lee

"You do talk some crud!"

Andrew Pestell

"Amazing how he knows what will happen if we leave but can't tell you what's going to happen if we stay. Incredible"

Ian Taylor

"I personally favour the 'in' campaign but am fed up with the threats of cosmic chaos."

Peter Adams

would be an average extra £230 cost for a family holiday," he said, adding it could cost up to £4 to make an overseas phone call.

Mr Cameron also spoke out against the idea of ever joining the Euro, given the advantages of having our own currency.

Mrs McCall added: "If the UK were to vote to leave the EU any new, more restrictive aviation arrangements would add cost and therefore fares are highly likely to rise. And a weaker pound would mean the cost of a holiday – including food, accommodation and drinks – would be more expensive. "That is why we think it is better for our customers to remain in the EU."

Van-making team

continues our series on the businesses that make our county tick

WALKING into Vauxhall's Luton plant isn't the hectic, industrial experience one might expect from a van factory.

Instead I find a friendly and dedicated group of workers, supervisors and managers.

The reason for this is made clear when I'm introduced to general assembly manager Stephen Withey, who takes me on a tour around his section of the production line at the plant in Skimpot Road.

The first thing that strikes me is the sense of community. At every station Stephen greets workers, and knows all of their names.

He said: "The most important thing for me is walking around the shop floor, talking to people."

Stephen claims he knew the names of every one of the 217 employees on shift at any given time – until the recent hiring of 191 new workers and 68 trainees gave him a new challenge.

Door line worker Amanda

Kenny explains the relationship between management and staff at the site. "The management are approachable and they're fair," she said. "If you've got a problem you can go and see someone."

Manufacturing in Luton began in 1905 when Vauxhall moved from South London. Cars, commercial vehicles and even Churchill Tanks were designed and built at the plant.

To date, more than eight million vehicles have been built at the Luton site and thousands of locals have found work here over the years. Team work is absolutely vital in the plant, with a new van rolling off the end of the line every 129 seconds – fully assembled and ready for sale.

Team leader Mark O'Connor, who has 32 years' experience at the site, explained how he addressed any issues the team may have. "Whenever there's an issue, if we don't meet our targets or something like that, we have to have an action plan," he said.

"Steve will come and ask me what's happened and we feed back to the team on how to deal with it."

As the UK's last functioning van manufacturing plant and with a projected secure

and produced on site, it's all specially designed to keep the line clear, we invest most of our money into keeping things clear and safe."

"It is hard work, for the 129 seconds each stage takes to complete, you're using your hands for about 95 per cent of the time, but it's rewarding, seeing the final product of that hard work."

Justin said the Luton plant was vital to Vauxhall's international presence: "This is now the UK's only light commercial vehicle manufacturing plant."

"Fifty-two per cent of production is exported to 27 European markets."

"Over eight million vehicles have been built in Luton since 1905 and Vauxhall's all-new Vivaro van was launched in Luton in 2014."

It's clear to see that this Luton plant is a crucial part of not just the company's business success, but of the industrial contribution of Bedfordshire as a whole.

Recognition for this success can't just be given to the company itself, but the dedicated and friendly team behind the scenes; those on the production line right now and the thousands of workers and throughout the course of the plant's long history in the county.

future until at least 2025, Stephen's team must be doing something right, having received multiple awards, such as 'Van of the Year' in 2014 for the new Vivaro.

Stephen said: "We take pride in our product."

"Safety and quality are our top priorities and the fact that our customers love our product shows that we're doing it right."

The site's senior press officer, Justin Hawkins, said the plant had a promising future.

"We've received £185 million investment including £76m in manufacturing facilities and £90m in vendor tooling and special equipment," he said.

Safety, as you can imagine, is a priority, and Stephen is proud the plant has gone 1,765 days without incident.

He said: "All our storage racks are designed on the go

Apphia sings a song for Nina

DIRECT from sell-out performances in Shanghai, New York and at the Edinburgh Festival Fringe, Apphia Campbell embarks on her debut UK tour.

Inspired by the life of Nina Simone, Black Is The Color Of My Voice follows a successful jazz singer and civil rights activist, Mena Bordeaux.

Bordeaux is seeking redemption after the untimely death of her father.

Over a three day detox period, free from cigarettes and alcohol, the one time classical pianist reflects on the journey that took her from a young piano prodigy destined for a life in the service of the church, to a renowned jazz vocalist at the forefront of the Civil Rights Movement.

This one woman show definitely doesn't shy away from the issues prevalent in 1950s America, with racism faced by Bordeaux when growing up a key issue. Using a variety of props pulled from an old suitcase, Apphia paints a portrait of her character's life growing up, with all the trials and tribulations that came with it.

Well received across the world, with a number of four and five star reviews to back it up, this is one not to be missed when it comes to Luton Library Theatre on June 10.

Tickets are £10 or £8 concessions and the performance begins at 7.30pm.

MUSIC

JULIAN COSTELLO
 THE BEAR CLUB
 SATURDAY, 7PM

Let's talk about sax

HEAD along to the Bear Club to enjoy an evening of sax appeal...

The Julian Costello Quartet plays contemporary music which it describes as 'incorporating a range of different grooves, moods and colours, its textures both tuneful and melodic'.

This long-standing group has played at many festivals in Britain and Europe and all the major jazz clubs in London, while music by the band has been played on BBC Radio 3, Radio 2 and jazzfm.

This week, they play at The Bear Club on Saturday June 4 with virtuoso guest guitarist Maciek Pysz, playing contemporary music incorporating a range of different moods.

Julian says: "Some of the tunes are really structured and scored while others are more free-flowing and left to chance."

The frontman's talents aren't just restricted to his musical instruments - he also plays the drums and piano.

Julian has written music for a Channel 4 documentary about refugees which was shown on Channel 4 News, and he's also written music for World of Parker Films for shorts promoting schools in the London Boroughs.

The band has released many CDs to wide critical acclaim and has toured the country extensively.

Releases include Edge of Distinction from May 2011, Der-Da-Di-Da in 2008 and Cake and Consequences from 2004.

The band will no doubt try and fit as many songs from each of the releases as they possibly can.

Playing tenor and soprano saxophones and composing all the music, Julian sees the group as his heritage to 'jam'; improvise and see what happens.

Alongside guitarist Pysz, the rest of the talented quartet is made up by Adam Texeira on drums and Milko Ambrogini on the double bass.

The rest of the quartet feature very much as equals rather than as accompanists, and Julian tries to think of his solos as conversations with the rest of the group rather than traditional solos with rhythmic and harmonic accompaniment.

They will be playing original compositions by both Julian and Maciek and bringing their own take on some jazz standards.

Doors open for the event in the Guildford Street venue at 7pm, although the free-flowing music won't be starting until 8pm. So get yourself a drink first.

Tickets are available for £7 for concessions and £8 for adults.

Feel the heat with Latin connection

A MUSICAL project is bringing a taste of Latin music to Luton.

Descarga is an Arts Council England Project funded in collaboration with The Bear Club and The Brant Tilds Quintet.

Brant and his quintet will be performing new music at The Bear Club once a month for a year starting back in March, and then they'll have a descarga, a type of improvised jam common in Latin music, at the end of each concert.

Over the course of the 12 months, an album of live recordings will be curated from the work developed in these monthly music sessions.

The descarga at the end of each gig is designed speci-cally to give advanced student and adult musicians an introduction to performing Latin Music.

Latin Music is music that is clave dependent, meaning that every rhythm in the music is based around the percussion instrument the clave, even though the clave is not always playing.

So to learn to improvise in Latin Music, one must internalize the clave's beat before playing a note.

Doors are at 7pm, with music running from 7.30pm until 10pm.

Entry to the event is £5, though participation in the descarga is encouraged, with entry free for any musicians taking part in the jam session.

OUT & ABOUT

A taste of Tex Mex

GUIITARS and Tex Mex will be the staple of this particular party night - with the cactus sharp, tequila filled, setson wearing Los Pacaminos.

Los Pacaminos is fronted by one of the UK's finest and best loved vocalists - Luton-born Paul Young.

However, Paul is not the only luminary in this seven-piece band. Some of the best musicians in the business have teamed up to present an incendiary mix of classics and original material.

The band got together in London in November 1992, as an antidote to the bleak English winter. But it was also an opportunity to play their shared passion of the Border, Tex Mex and Americana music that the members of the band love, starting as a practice band playing when other musical commitments allowed - top musicians just playing for fun.

Word got around as word does and soon the band started playing gigs.

Their friendships stretch back 20 to 30 years, and it's these long term connections that underpin the very special atmosphere generated at a show. And the audience are very much involved, often being invited onto stage to share a drink!

Paul says: "Los Pacaminos started out just for fun, playing simply for the pleasure of it, and it just took off."

"What's really nice is that everyone else in the band can sing too, and they do, all in their own different styles.

LOS PACAMINOS
 LIBRARY THEATRE
 JUNE 17

"It's real bar room stuff, foot stomps, not too many slow songs - a real party atmosphere."

Band members Drew Barfield, Mark Pinder, Steve Greetham, Jamie Moses and Melvin Duffy have all played with Young in his bands in the 80s and 90s.

They play the very best in Tex Mex Border music from The Texas Tornados and Ry Cooder to Los Lobos and even Roy Orbison. Tex Mex music is somewhere between the Mariachi and Norteno styles of Mexico and the Country and Blues sounds of South-West America.

Mix that together with blues, rock 'n' roll and a hint of South American music and you have Los Pacaminos.

Their set includes songs like Wooly Bully, La Bamba and sometimes, if enough tequila is flowing, even Speedy Gonzales.

Tickets are selling fast for this show, so make sure you don't miss out.

They cost £17.50 (plus a booking fee) from www.lutonculture.com or by calling 01582 878 100.

The show takes place from 8pm until 11pm, so there's plenty of time to enjoy the show - and that shot of tequila!

What's hot in Luton

That's a wrap! Studios now flats

FILM buffs looking for a new address will feel right at home in a development complete with cinema where Stanley Kubrick, Albert "Cubby" Broccoli and Steven Spielberg first watched their own films.

Kubrick was a big fan of Denham Film Studios and would insist that his films were processed there, while more recently Steven Spielberg chose it to work on his Oscar-nominated film War Horse.

From 1936, the studio's film laboratories processed reels of film from some of the world's most memorable TV shows, adverts and movies – Star Wars, Alien, Superman, Full Metal Jacket and Skyfall to name just a few.

One room stored all the original film footage and film scripts for the James Bond films while the director's boardroom table and chairs used furniture from My Fair Lady. Outside, a large water tank was the water laboratories like Denham. It prompted the Buckinghamshire studio's demise in 2014, but developers are now building 224 homes on the site, ranging from one bed starter flats up to large five bedroom executive houses with prices from £350,000 to £1.5m.

New residents will get to use the restored cinema along with a bar and a community hall/fitness space. A nice touch will be streets named after the movies, directors and actors who worked at the film studios.

stage for Treasure Island, The Cruel Sea and The Dam Busters.

In the last few years, directors have moved over to digital filming, which means there's less demand for traditionally shot films and little need for

Queen of Thorns on a new stage

AS the leather cat-suit-clad Emma Peel in The Avengers and the only Bond girl to marry the commitment-phobic spy, Dame Diana Rigg once set pulses racing but is now more likely to be admired for her wit and sarcasm.

Although voted the sexiest television star ever in 2002, she's now more demurely dressed in Game of Thrones as Lady Olenna Tyrell, the political mastermind known as the Queen of Thorns. The role earned her an Emmy nomination for Outstanding Guest Actress in a Drama Series in 2013 and she's appeared in subsequent series of the hit show.

Rigg is a dab hand at playing matriarchs, recently popping up in TV comedy The Detectorists with daughter Rachel Stirling. It follows similar starring roles for the pair; a few years she appeared in a Victorian-era based episode of Doctor Who called The Crimson Horror alongside Stirling, which had been specially written for them by Mark Gatiss.

Rigg has made some good career choices, and is evidently canny when it comes to property too; she's just sold her four bedroom terraced house off the Fulham Road in Chelsea and made £2m on the deal; she bought it for £1.2m in 2003, renovated it and recently made £3.2m to spend on a move to smaller top-floor mansion flat nearby.

But she may be horrified to discover that, only weeks after she moved out, the builders have moved in and are tearing the place apart during a 17-week long makeover. The property's small roof terrace and walled garden are to remain.

A sinking

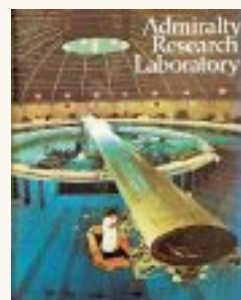

The owners of this unique home will be able to make the unusual boast of living in a former torpedo testing tank.

During the Cold War, it used to house a massive circular water-filled building with central mechanical arm for spinning underwater missiles at high speeds.

Built in the 1950s, The Rotunda was part of the Admiralty Research Laboratory, topped with a huge copper dome to stop enemy spy planes catching sight of the work underneath.

When scientists moved out, architects Norman and Dawbarn (who designed the BBC Television Centre) were commissioned to turn the tank into a house, removing the original dome and converting the former pool into gardens.

They incorporated its four-foot thick blast-proof concrete walls, adding stacks of glass and aluminium, while the current owners have done more work to turn it into a contemporary luxury home, which could be yours for £6.75m.

Standing in deer-filled Royal Bushy Park near Hampton Court Palace, the super-sleek modernist pad is tucked away in a secluded setting behind electronic gates.

The open-plan reception and kitchen/dining room runs almost the full length of the house, which has six bathrooms and six bedrooms all looking out onto 1.3 acres of land.

It's also got a conservatory, playground and study and stacks of parking space outside.

The remains of the former testing site – a section of empty tank and a mass of winding tunnels – can still be accessed through the basement door and could be turned into a swimming pool and spa.

HOT GOSSIP

This TV gem is a period drama

BONNETS, bustles and breeches can often be spotted at this picture-postcard cottage that's a go-to house for anyone filming a period drama.

The Grade II listed cottage is in such good nick for a Jacobean house that TV and film directors line up to film in it. Its CV includes roles in TV productions of Nicholas Nickleby, Cranford, Sense and Sensibility and Emma, while it also appeared in the 2004 movie Finding Neverland, with Johnny Depp and Kate Winslet.

The Dower House in Drayton Beauchamp, Buckinghamshire, has four bedrooms, detached double garage and sits at the end of a long private drive in more than 2.5 acres of formal gardens, lawns and orchard. The house is thought to have been built for the Dowager Lady Mary Cheyne after the death of her husband Sir Francis and for a while was split into three cottages before being turned back into one house in 1927.

It was once owned by conductor and composer Arthur Reynolds, who penned scores such as 1066 and All That. While he lived there, it featured in Ideal Home magazine in July 1949.

Built in 1620, it's timber framed with leaded windows and has a thatched roof. Stacks of period details include chamfered ceiling beams and open fireplaces – one with a bread oven – an Aga and brick floor in the kitchen and breakfast room and wooden floors around the rest of the house.

It's on the market for £1.25m. www.savills.co.uk, 01494 731950

New recipe for rocking restaurant

MOST Stones fans wanting to dine where their idols eat head to Sticky Fingers, Bill Wyman's rock-themed American food joint popular with tourists. But back in the day, the band would often hang out at The Gasworks Restaurant – legendary for its famous clients and terrible food.

In the 1970s and 80s the restaurant, within a green painted building stuffed with paintings and antiques, attracted everyone from gangsters to royalty. It was even claimed that Princess Margaret used to have secret liaisons there with notorious Fulham gangster John Bindon.

The Gasworks was patronised by a louche crowd, attracted by its competitive prices and peculiar ambience. In the early days, there wasn't a sign outside and potential customers had to ring the doorbell before being scrutinised through a peephole by the owner who would decide whether or not to admit them.

One of its regulars remembers that the menu would include champignons en croute (tinned mushrooms on a slice of toasted Sunblest) and gateaux topped with UHT cream from a spray-on aerosol.

But The Gasworks has now gone to the great restaurant in the sky, and in its place are two newly renovated light-filled flats, off the Kings Road in London's Chelsea. The first has two bedrooms and two bathrooms and is on the market for £1.35m, while the second also has two bedrooms with one bathroom and a west-facing roof terrace leading from an eat-in kitchen/reception room with bi-folding patio doors.

It has a price tag of £1.25m.

BEDFORD BOROUGH COUNCIL

Lakeview Primary School
School Lane, Wixams, Beds MK42 6BH

Headteacher

SHT8-SHT14

The governors, children and staff of Lakeview Primary School are seeking to appoint a passionate head teacher who drives inspirational teaching and learning, and has proven leadership experience throughout the primary phases.

Following the retirement of the current head, we wish to appoint an individual who will continue to drive the best educational standards and outcomes for children in our local community.

We are an over subscribed and popular primary school and nursery that serves children from the local area. The head teacher, governors, staff and pupils have worked hard to demonstrate progress since our last Ofsted inspection, in June 2014. The school was then judged as 'Requires Improvement' but has since taken effective action, noted in the Section 8 report, September 2014:

"Our visits to classrooms indicated that staff are using assessments in English and mathematics consistently well to plan activities and manage support suited to the needs of different pupils. This includes those ready for higher levels of challenge."

As our new head teacher, you will continue to build on the high standards of school improvement developed throughout the school.

We provide a nurturing environment for children, built around an ethos of respect. Our children are happy, friendly and keen to learn, and we have positive partnerships with parents and the community. The successful candidate will be supported by a welcoming school community, well behaved children and a dedicated team of staff and governors.

Informal visits are encouraged. Please contact the school office on 01234 741653 or email Lakeview@schools.bedfordshire.gov.uk

For further details and an application pack please contact Fred Birkett on email: fbirkett@yahoo.com

CVs will not be accepted for any posts based in schools.

BMW's revealed for 2017

BY STEWART SMITH

BMW is upgrading its product range for the 2017 model year with more efficient, stronger-performing new four and six cylinder engines for the BMW 1 and 2 Series, the introduction of a BMW iPerformance range of plug-in-hybrid models and improved connectivity systems.

The pinnacle of the 2017 BMW 1 Series three- and five-door hatch ranges and the BMW 2 series Coupé and Convertible line-ups are the new M Performance models.

They are powered by a new 3.0-litre straight-six engine also employing TwinPower Turbo technology to develop a power increase of 14bhp and torque increase of 50Nm delivering a maximum of 340bhp and 500Nm of torque respectively ensuring rapid acceleration across almost the entire rev range.

Acceleration in the BMW M140i is achieved 0.3 seconds quicker than the previous model, the M135i, and the car now has a zero to 62mph time of 4.6 seconds when fitted with an automatic transmission.

The M240i Coupé performs the sprint in the same time with a reduction of 0.2 seconds from the previous M235i Coupé while the M240i Convertible goes from rest to 62mph in just 4.7 seconds yet with a reduction of up to seven per cent in fuel consumption.

There are also improvements to the four cylinder engines used in the 1 and 2 Series models which makes them livelier and other upgrades include twin exhausts on the 120i.

Prices for the new M series cars start from £31,200 for the M140i, £34,543 for the M240i Coupé and £37,715 for the convertible - increases of less than £1,000 over the models they replace.

The 1 Series range is now priced from £23,980 while the 2 Series begins at £26,865 for the coupé and £29,830 for the convertible.

At this year's Geneva Motor Show in March BMW announced a new iPerformance range of electrified fuel-saving, emissions-reducing models.

These will take technologies developed for the BMW i low emission cars and introduce them into mainstream models.

Three of these plug-in hybrid (PHEV) models – the BMW 225xe Active Tourer, BMW 330e saloon and BMW X5 xDrive40e – are already on sale.

They are now to be joined by the BMW 740e and 740Le xDrive saloons, all to be sold under the new iPerformance banner.

Also new for 2017 is a high definition sat nav display and a wireless phone charging cradle which will be available across the 1 and 2 Series ranges as well as on 3 and 4 Series cars plus the X5 and X6 models.

Fiat 500X 1.6 Pop Star

Take a look inside. . .

BY JON SMITH

PEOPLE can't get enough of nostalgia. Just take a look at the MINI, Mustang or the Fiat 500.

But sometimes people want a bit more, or even a bit bigger. That's why the BMW MINI grew and grew until it reached Countryman proportions.

The same happened with the diminutive Fiat 500 which spawned the rather ungainly looking – to my eyes, anyway – 500L. But one expanded derivative that captures the style and essence of the original concept while still providing plenty of family space is the 500X.

Its chief rivals in the crossover market are the Nissan Juke and Renault Captur.

With a choice of petrol and diesel engines, the economic pick of the crop is 1.6-litre 118bhp, diesel Multijet which puts 50mpg within everyday access.

Added girth has improved passenger and luggage space. This is, however, less generous than the Captur.

The 500X can be specified with four wheel drive, but most models sold in Britain will be front drive, as is the test car.

Inside, the retro look remains with plenty of painted metal around the dash, old-school buttons and metal door handles.

However, a bang-up-to-date 6.5 inch touch screen takes pride of place on the fascia with a chunky leather covered steering wheel. There's an underlying feeling of quality and longevity about the stylish cabin.

Standard kit on the entry Pop Star version is generous enough with electric windows, automatic climate control, rear parking sensors, alloy wheels and electric door mirrors. The test car also came with sat-nav (£1,000) and metallic paint (£500).

The 1.6 diesel engine is a little gem with bags of torque and subdued noise levels. Little vibration can be felt within the passenger compartment adding to the refined feel of the 500X.

Ride quality is generally good, although it can become slightly nervous when driving quickly.

You get a good view from the 500X thanks to its high stance but the front pillars are quite thick and the bootline is high for reversing – those rear parking sensors tend to come in useful.

Fun to look at and practical to use, the 500X deserves to be high on the shopping list for families in search for a reasonably priced, fashionable crossover.

Vauxhall Zafira - more fire risk recalls

By: Stewart Smith

VAUXHALL is recalling almost a quarter of a million Zafira B models so that preventative action can be carried out to protect the vehicles from the risk of fire. In December last year Vauxhall wrote to all 234,938 owners of the cars to make them aware of an issue which could affect their vehicle. The action follows scores of incidents in which some of the vehicles burst into flames. The models affected were made between 2005 and 2014. Zafiras built before 2005 are not involved and neither is the Zafira Sport. Investigations found evidence of improper repair of the blower motor resistor and its thermal fuse, which is designed to protect the blower motor system. Such repairs, which may have been conducted without the owners' knowledge, can lead to overheating of the system's electrical components and the potential for a fire. Resistors should never be repaired, they should only be replaced. Since then Vauxhall has been conducting a recall programme designed to return vehicles to their original condition. This has involved replacing the resistor in every vehicle inspected and the blower motor and the pollen filter in many thousands of vehicles. The company also said that while the current action achieves the objective of returning vehicles to their original condition, it has decided to go further and improve the overall robustness of the system with a second recall to replace the current soldered fuse resistor with a wax fuse resistor so reducing the opportunity for manipulation. Again, this work will be conducted free of charge. Vauxhall will be writing to all customers to inform them of the second recall action and provide appropriate advice. Owners of vehicles which have not yet had the initial recall completed should still bring their vehicles to their dealership to have them returned to their original condition.

Nissan takes lead with electric taxis

By: Stewart Smith

THE market for all-electric taxis in Europe increased by 66 per cent last year and in the UK Nissan products proved to be the biggest seller. In 2015, 78 of the company's zero-emission LEAF and e-NV200 models were delivered to taxi firms around the country. Europe was the top continent for all-electric taxi take-up, accounting for 48 per cent of worldwide sales in 2015 with EV model sales rising from 426 to 709. Leading the charge in the current financial year, Nissan and Spain's La Ciudad del Taxi have just announced the world's largest 100 per cent electric taxi fleet deal that will see 110 Nissan LEAF 30 kWh models providing zero emission taxi services in Madrid. The electric taxi market in Europe is growing quickly as taxi operators switch on to the benefits of zero emission mobility. Nissan says it has sold almost 800 electric vehicles to taxi owners and operators across Europe. In January this year, six of the largest and longest-established Nissan taxi fleets the UK surpassed three million miles between them, which is estimated to have saved the firms a collective £290,000 in average running costs. Gareth Dunsmore, head of electric vehicles for Nissan Europe, said: "Cities across the globe are facing huge challenges in terms of poor air quality and increasing greenhouse emissions. Adding zero emission vehicles such as the Nissan LEAF to taxi services operating in major cities is a vital step to tackling these challenges head on."

The Nissan LEAF is the best-selling EV in the world with more than 220,000 units sold globally. The new LEAF 30 kWh offers a range of up to 155 miles on a single charge, making it an ideal taxi vehicle and in addition to its zero emission benefits offers running costs four times cheaper than that of a conventional combustion engine and up to 40 per cent savings in maintenance costs.

KIA SPORTAGE NAMED BEST DIESEL

By: Stewart Smith

ONLY a few months after its launch the all-new Kia Sportage has been crowned with a significant accolade by becoming the Diesel Car Magazine Car of the Year. The fourth generation Sportage bettered the competition due to its excellent specification levels, even on low grade vehicles, including Bluetooth connectivity, DAB radio and satellite navigation. This coupled with its dynamic handling and distinctive design, made this family crossover a clear choice for the top spot. The Sportage was also voted the best medium sized SUV by the magazine.

The Sportage strong points were its competitive prices with the range starting from £17,995 and the lead-in diesel, the 1.7 CRDi 6-speed manual version, at £19,745 - all covered by the brand's industry leading seven year warranty. Kia's new crossover, which was introduced to the UK market in February, has already seen impressive sales success with more than 14,000 customers placing orders in just four months. Editor and publisher of Diesel Car, Ian Robertson, said: "The Sportage won the top spot because of its generous equipment levels, keen prices and excellent road manners, which means that the Sportage leapfrogs the competition to sit at the very top of the class." Paul Philpott, president and chief executive of Kia Motors (UK) said: "We are delighted and honoured to get this tremendous accolade from Diesel Car. Clearly new Sportage is a big winner with customers and Diesel Car's endorsement only reinforces the car's success."

DOUBLE CLUTCH DYNAMITE FOR CITAN VAN

By: Mike Torpey

MERCEDES-BENZ Vans has launched a line-up of dual-clutch automatic transmission versions of its popular Citan model. It means selected Citan 112 variants will be up for grabs with the new 6G-DCT automatic transmission from next month. Citan panel van and Tourer models with the 112 petrol engine can benefit from the double clutch transmission, which combines the comfort of a six-speed automatic transmission with the driving dynamics of a manual gearbox in a compact and light-weight design. The six-speed dual-clutch transmission consists of two sub-transmissions, each with its own clutch. As one transmits drive to the wheels, the other pre-selects the next gear, allowing for near seamless gear changes without loss of traction.

Prices are from £15,820, excluding VAT, for the 112 panel van long 6G-DCT and £17,900 for the Tourer long variant. Both have an official Combine fuel figure of 44.1mpg and CO2 emissions of 144g/km. Mercedes-Benz Vans is the sales and marketing organisation responsible for all Daimler Van products and services in Britain. In 2015, Mercedes-Benz Vans celebrated its best ever year in the UK, with 36,212 vehicles registered – a sixth consecutive year of growth

PALACE BONANZA FOR MOTOR FANS

By: Stewart Smith

PETROL heads will be heading to London's Crystal Palace for the Spring bank holiday weekend when this year's Motorsport at the Palace event attracts racing drivers from all over the world showcasing cars from the past right through to the latest supercars. Some 200 cars from racing and rallying spanning over 100 years of motoring are expected at the show with classes ranging from pre-war vintage to modern day, delivering high octane competition with around 100 cars running each day. There will also be a tribute to another famous use of Crystal Palace when in 1969 the venue was used to film scenes in the iconic motoring movie The Italian Job. Around 35 to 45 auto clubs will be displaying their cars and previous attendees have included the Alfa Romeo Owners Club, the British Street Rod Association, The Independent Porsche Enthusiasts Club, Stag Owners Club, and the MX-5 Owners Club. Regional motoring clubs will be in attendance too and in 2015 the show was joined by Kent Ferrari, Crystal Palace Street and Strip Car Club, North Kent Lotus Group, Surrey Vintage Vehicle Society, and South East London Mini Owners Club. For those who prefer two-wheel motoring there will be a collection of classic motorbikes with the line-up including a 1962 250 Aermacchi Ala D'oro, 1930 Scott Sidecar, 1966 Triumph Thruxton Bonneville, a 1961 BSA DBD Gold Star and many more. Alongside all the motorsport action is a trader village as well as live music from all-girl harmony group Elle & the Pocket Belles and a family funfair

VIPERS BRING VENOM TO SILVERSTONE CLASSIC

By: Stewart Smith

THIS summer's Silverstone Classic, being held from July 29-31, will be home to a huge number of enthusiastic car clubs all celebrating significant model or marque milestones with displays and glittering track parades. And for the first time this year's highlights will include an unprecedented gathering of mighty Dodge Vipers, one of America's most iconic muscle cars.

Originally conceived by Chrysler in the late 1980s to be a modern day Cobra, the venomous Viper RT/10 Roadster first went on sale in January 1992. While the finish of the dramatically styled two-door roadster was pretty spartan (there were no windows or exterior door handles), it came with a Lamborghini-inspired 8.0-litre V10 engine and thus walloping 160mph-plus performance. A true US classic was born. Four years later came a slightly more powerful and refined second generation Viper plus a GTS coupe version for road and track. Also in 1996, the United Kingdom Viper Club was formed and will be celebrating its 20th anniversary with a record-breaking display at the 2016 Silverstone Classic. Adrian Swift, president of the UK Viper Club, said: "We have at least 16 Vipers coming from Europe to join us at Silverstone and expect to have more than 30 Vipers in Saturday's track parade. It will be the largest number of Vipers that has ever been gathered together at one spot in the UK." Other marques which will be featured at this year's event include Morgan, which is marking the 80th anniversary of the iconic 4/4 and Nissan which will be celebrating the Silver Jubilee of the diminutively retro-styled Figaro convertible.

Murray continues to serve a white knuckle thriller

THERE isn't a sportsperson out there who plays on our nerves while he is competing quite like Andy Murray.

Even when he was serving for the Championship at Wimbledon against Novak Djokovic in 2013 he still had to get himself over the line via the scenic route by dropping a 40-0 lead and having to see off three break points.

A straight sets victory had never felt so exhausting – many of us watching that match felt like we had been out on court with him on that baking July afternoon.

In the quarter finals of that tournament, Murray had to come back from two sets down to defeat Fernando Verdasco, so we were used to the emotional roller-coaster his matches regularly throw up.

After all, I was one of those who thought it was a good idea to stay up until 3am to watch him win his first-ever Grand Slam title – the US Open in 2012.

Then there was that bizarre match against Andrea Seppi in the third round of last year's Wimbledon when Murray lost six games in a row after his opponent had received an injury time-out, before winning six on the bounce following one of his own.

But even by his standards, these last few weeks have been extraordinary from him.

He went into the French Open off the back of an impressive victory over Djokovic in the final of the Italian Open in Rome, which led to many to proclaim this year as his best chance of becoming champion at Roland Garros.

However, it's fair to say he felt well short of the standards he sets for himself in the first two rounds, as he was twice taken to five sets by players outside the world's top 100.

There were times during his matches against Radek Stepanek and Mathias Bourgue where he performed like a player at Challenger level, making the most basic errors.

Thankfully, Murray managed to pull himself back from the brink on both occasions and his progress against the giant Ivo Karlovic in the third round proved to be a bit more serene on Friday.

But in a summer that includes Wimbledon, the Olympics and the US Open, we should brace ourselves for a few more heart-stoppers in the months ahead.

There will be times when we'll be watching behind our hands (or the sofa) while Murray goes through one of his lulls before producing tennis from the Gods, all in the space of half an hour.

His public persona may come across as a bit dour, but that description is something you could never associate with his matches.

Enjoy the ride.

CRICKET QUARTER FINAL

BEDFORDSHIRE will face Herefordshire in the quarter finals of the Unicorns

Prosperre remains unbeaten

BOXING

UNDEFEATED Kay Prosperre took a step closer to an English super lightweight title challenge with a points victory over Dutchman Innocent Anyanwu.

The 31-year-old Lutonian was fighting on the undercard of the David Haye v Arnold Gjergaj contest at the sold-out O2 Arena last Saturday night where the heavyweight Briton easily claimed a second round stoppage victory over the undefeated 'Cobra'.

Former Hockwell Ring ABC fighter Prosperre headed into his bout with a perfect 8-0 record and with the carrot of an English title eliminator on the horizon.

Prosperre looked comfortable against the Dutch super featherweight champion and claimed a 40-37 points victory over the four rounds to set up a prospective title eliminator for the English crown.

On social media last Sunday, Prosperre said: "I got the win last night winning every round (40-37). We move on to 9-0. Would like to thank everyone that came out to support me. I had so much distractions yesterday, firstly being told I was fighting 3rd. Then not at all, then placed as a floater, not know if or when I was fighting."

"I couldn't of asked for worse preparation to a fight. Many people left thinking I wasn't fighting, so I would like to apologise to these people. Would like to thank @stevegoodwin and his team for all their efforts. Bigger and better things to come." (sic)

Five of Prosperre's former victories had come via knockout and the fighter, nicknamed 'Special K', was already familiar with the Docklands venue having beaten Lee Connolly there back in January. Saturday's triumph was Prosperre's third outing of the year with the O2 Arena bouncing thanks to a 20,000-capacity crowd for Haye's continued comeback.

UPWARD CURVE: Kay Prosperre has won nine fights

Prosperre has previously targeted a future fight against fellow Lutonian Michael Devine, and he will be looking to follow in the footsteps of fellow famous Lutonian boxers Billy Schwer and Graham Earl.

Ex-Hatter Howells signs for Spitfires

FOOTBALL

FORMER Luton Town midfielder Jake Howells signed for National League side Eastleigh on a free transfer on Monday.

Howells, who was released by the Hatters two weeks ago, has agreed a two-year contract with the Spitfires, who finished seventh in English football's fifth tier this season.

Chris Todd's side also reached the third round of the FA Cup for the first time ever, where they eventually bowed out against then-Championship club Bolton Wanderers.

Howells said upon signing: "I am really pleased to be signing for such an ambitious club as Eastleigh and really looking forward to the challenge ahead."

The 25-year-old came through the academy at Luton and was given his debut aged 17 as a substitute against Huddersfield Town at the end of the 2007/08 season.

Howells went on to make 334 appearances for the Hatters, scoring 31 goals, and forced his way back into the first-team under manager Nathan Jones in the second half of the season after being frozen out for refusing to sign a new contract the previous summer.

But he is one of the 12 players to have been released by Luton since the end of the campaign, a decision that left him both surprised and disappointed.

Taking to Twitter at the time, Howells said: "Shame to end that way, also didn't get a chance to say goodbye and show my appreciation for all the years. Can't thank the fans enough for supporting me since day one."

Paddy packs his bags

sport@snmedia.co.uk

LUTON have announced this week that midfielder Paddy McCourt has left the club after the two parties mutually agreed to terminate his contract 12 months early.

McCourt's departure means that 12 players have now left Kenilworth Road since the end of the season, after the earlier releases of the likes of Paul Benson, Scott Griffiths, Jake Howells, Alex Lawless and Elliot Justham.

The 32-year-old will head back home to his native Northern Ireland and he has been tipped to rejoin former club Derry City, where he previously played between 2005 and 2008.

McCourt, who has been capped 18 times by his country, signed for Luton last summer on a two-year contract after he was released by Brighton.

He was to make 26 appearances during his first season with the Hatters, scoring one goal, which came in Nathan Jones' first victory as Town manager against Mansfield in January. But injuries and personal issues were to disrupt the latter stages of McCourt's campaign with Jones allowing him time off to return home during April.

Jones told the club's website: "Paddy has had to face up to some personal problems in recent weeks and at the end of the season he came to me about his future and it was soon clear to me that he wanted to return to Northern Ireland to be closer to his family and to play there again. It wasn't a straightforward decision for me - Paddy has done well for us, but in the end we reached an agreement and he goes with my blessing."

Luton have organised a couple of pre-season friendlies at Kenilworth Road, with Nathan Jones' former club Brighton and League One side Walsall due to visit on July 23 and 30 respectively.

The Hatters had already confirmed away games against Bedford Town, Boreham Wood and Woking as part of their schedule.

Jones will also take his players to Hungary for a pre-season training camp from July 3-10 as he looks to make sure they are fully prepared for the new campaign.

Sheehan extends stay

sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

LUTON Town made their first signing of the summer on Wednesday when they announced that Irish defender Alan Sheehan would be turning his loan move from Bradford City into a permanent deal.

Sheehan was the first man to be signed by Hatters manager Nathan Jones after he arrived on loan from the Bantams in January for the rest of the season.

The 29-year-old will join permanently on a free transfer on Friday, July 1 after his contract with Bradford expires.

Sheehan made 20 appearances during his loan spell at Kenilworth, scoring one goal – a scorcher in a 1-1 draw with Yeovil – and he ended the season captaining the side after an injury to regular skipper Scott Cuthbert.

Sheehan told the club's website: "I have really enjoyed my football since being at Luton Town.

"For me, it's all about enjoying the football really.

"The manager was a huge factor in me coming to Luton and obviously Paul Hart, Mick Harford and Kevin Nugent are a very strong team and I'm really delighted to be joining."

Sheehan, a former Republic of Ireland U21 international, began his career at Leicester City and made 29 appearances for them before signing for Leeds United in 2008.

He didn't feature regularly at Elland Road and was loaned out to Crewe, Oldham and Swindon before signing permanently for the latter in August 2010.

Sheehan was relegated from League One after one season at the County Ground before he moved to Notts County, where he was to develop a reputation as a set-piece specialist.

He joined Bradford three years later, but after losing his place, spent time on loan at Peterborough and back at Notts County before his arrival at Luton.
